 Fourth edition, "A new edition revised and corrected by Samuel Birch".
 In 1821 Sir John Gardner Wilkinson [1797-1875], who is considered the founder of British Egyptology, went to Egypt for the first time. By 1824 and again 1827-8 he was conducting excavations in Thebes, particularly in the royal tombs. He was the first Egyptologist to make a comprehensive study of the tombs in the Valley of the Kings. The above work is the first complete survey of the main archaeological and historical sites in Egypt and Nubia, and it includes the first comprehensive plan of ancient Thebes.
